He has likewise for Sale, Pot-Ash Coolers, a fast assortment of Cast Iron Ware, Philadelphia superfine and common Flour, New-England Rum, 8d. 10d. and 20d. Nails, Russia Duck, Sewing Twine, Copperas, Allum, Redwood, choice Table Fish, and a small assortment of English Goods.

POTASH KETTLES.

TO BE SOLD, by
SMITH and ATKINSON,
At their Store in KING STREET,

POTASH Kettles, cast at Salisbury, in Connecticut, (in clay copes) from the best mountain ore, far superior in quality to any kettles cast in this province from Bogg ore, which being so very liable to crack when first used in melting down the salts, the manufacturer of Potash is thereby not only subjected to considerable expence and trouble in procuring other kettles, but frequently disappointed in working his stock of ashes in the proper season.

These Kettles have rarely been known to fail till they are worn out, in many of which above thirty tons of Potash have been made, and when useless for that purpose, a pair of them is valued from 4*l.* 10*s.* to 5*l.* 10*s.* for the forge, to work into bar iron, the Salisbury metal being allowed the first in America, for making the best tough bar iron. The Bogg ore Kettles are of no value for the forge, exclusive of the great risque of their cracking before one ton of Potash is made.

Now ready for Sale, by
SMITH and ATKINSON,
At said Store, a large and general assortment of EUROPEAN and INDIA GOODS,
Imported in the last vessels, which being bought on the very best terms will be disposed of (by wholesale only) at such prices as shall give full satisfaction to those in town and country, who purchase their assortment here, and also invite those who usually import their goods, to apply for many articles to compleat their assortments.

N. B. Gun powder, Russia & English Duck, Sail, &c.

* These Kettles are Smooth within, and free from Sulphurous Honey Comb Holes, which the other Sort are Subject to.

And as the said Webb has sold large Quantities of this Sort, with general Satisfaction to his Customers. He Flatters himself that they will give him the Preference, notwithstanding any Pompous Advertisement to the Contrary.

By M.r Samuel Adams

Messieurs EDES & GILL,

NO methods are yet left untried by the writers on the side of the ministry, to perswade this People that the best way to get rid of our Grievances is to submit to them. This was the artifice of Governor Bernard; and it is urg'd with as much zeal as ever, under the administration of Governor Hutchinson. They would fain have us endure the loss of as many of our Rights and Liberties as an abandon'd ministry shall see fit to wrest from us, without the least murmur: But when they find, that they cannot silence our complaints, & sooth us into security, they then tell us, that "much may be done for the publick interest by way of humble & dutiful representation, pointing out the hardships of certain measures"—This is the language of Chronus in the last Massachusetts Gazette. But have we not already humbly petition'd the King for the Redress of our Grievances and the Restoration of our Liberties?—Have not the House of Representatives done it in the most dutiful terms imaginable?—Was it not many months before that Petition was suffer'd to reach the royal hand?—And after it was laid before his Majesty, was he not advis'd by his ministers to measures still more grievous and severe? Have any lenient measures been the consequence of our humble representations of "the hardship of certain measures," which were set forth by the house of assembly in the most decent and respectful letters to persons of high rank in the administration of government at home? Did not the deputies of most of the towns and districts in this province met in Convention in the year 1768, when Bernard had in a very extraordinary manner dissolv'd the General Assembly?—Did they not, I say, in the most humble terms, petition the Throne for the Redress of the intolerable grievances we then labor'd under?—Has not the Town of Boston most submissively represented "the hardship of certain measures" to their most gracious Sovereign, and petition'd for Right and Relief?—Was not petitioning and humbly supplicating, the method constantly propos'd by those very persons whom Chronus after the manner of his brethren, stiles "pretended patriots", and constantly adopted till it was apparent that our petitions and representations were treated with neglect, and contempt?——Till we found that even our petitioning was looked upon as factious, and the effects of it were the heaping Grievance upon Grievance?—Have not the people of this province, after all their humble supplications, been falsly charg'd with being "in a state of disobedience to all law and government?" And in consequence of petitioning, has not the capital been filled with soldiers to quiet their murmurs with the bayonet; &, to murder, assassinate & plunder with impunity?—Have we not borne for these seven years past such indignity as no free people ever suffer'd before, and with no other tokens of resentment on our part, than pointing out our hardships, and appealing to the common sense of mankind, after we had in vain petition'd our most gracious Sovereign?—And now we are even insulted by those who have bro't on us all these difficulties, for uttering our just complaints in a publick Newspaper! Pointing out the hardships of our sufferings, and calling upon the impartial world to judge between us and our oppressors, and protesting before God and man against innovations big with ruin to the public Liberty, is call'd by this writer, "a stubborn opposition to public authority," and "a high hand opposition and repugnancy to government." For God's sake, what are we to expect from petitioning? Have we any prospect in the way of humble and dutiful representation? Let us advert to the nation of which this writer says we are a part. Are not they suffering the same grievances, under the same administration? Have not they repeatedly petitioned and remonstrated to the throne, and "pointed out the hardships of certain measures," to the King himself? And has not his Majesty been advised by his ministers, to treat them as imaginary grievances only? And yet after all, against repeated facts, and common experience to the contrary, we are told, that "much might be done for the public interest, by way of humble and dutiful representation!" If there were even now, any hopes that the King would hear us, while his present counsellors are near him, I should be by all means for petitioning again; but every man of common observation will judge for himself of the prospect.

I am not of this writers opinion, that the claims of our sister colonies, New-Hampshire and Rhode-Island, were so very reasonable, when disputes arose about the dividing lines; nor do I believe any of his disinterested readers will think his bare ipse dixit, however peremptory, a sufficient evidence of it.—It seems in the estimation of Chronus and his few confederates, all are "intemperate patriots," who will not yield the public rights to every demand, however unjust it may appear.—Thus a whole General Assembly is branded by this writer, with the character of "wrong-headed politicians," for not surrendering a part of the territory of this province to New-Hampshire and Rhode-Island, because they demanded it. It is no uncommon thing for those who are resolved to carry a favorite point, when they cannot reason with their opponents, to rail at them.—I shall not take upon me at present to say, whether the claims of those governments were right or wrong; but if the governor of the province, & a majority of the two houses, whom Chronus does not scruple to call "pretended patriots," then judged them to be wrong, their conduct in contending for the interest of the province, affords sufficient evidence, that they were real patriots.—————These instances are bro't by Chronus to shew the wisdom "of scorning the influence, and rejecting the rash and injudicious clamour of pretended patriots, and wrong-headed politicians," in the present assembly; who by their "indecent treatment of his Majesty's governor, are pressing him to comply with measures contrary to his instructions": But if his Majesty's governor's instructions are repugnant to the Rights and Liberties of his Majesty's subjects of this province, and those who are elected by the people to be the guardians of their rights and liberties, are really of that mind; especially if they also think that such instructions are design'd to have the force of laws; is it reasonable or decent for Chronus, tho' he may think differently, to call them mere pretended patriots, which conveys the idea of false-hearted men, for protesting against such instructions, as dangerous innovations, threatning the "very being of government," as constituted by the Charter?—Chronus and his brethren would do well to consider, that "a high-handed opposition and repugnance, ('tis a wonder he did not in the style of his friend Bernard, call it 'oppugnation') to government", is as dangerous when level'd at the representative body of the people, as at "his Majesty's Governor": An attack upon the constitution especially in that silent manner in which it has of late been attacked, is more dangerous than either.——He says that those "wretched politicians", "have made the Governor's subsistence to depend upon his compliance with measures contrary to his instructions." If this had been true, it would have been treating the Governor in a manner in which the British parliaments, when free, have treated their sovereign: No supplies till grievances are redressed, has been the language of those "wrong headed politicians", the British house of commons in former, and better times, than these—If the commons of this province have at any time with-held their grant for the support of a governor, till he should comply with measures contrary to his instructions, they looking upon those instructions, as they have been, in fact, repugnant to the very spirit of the charter, and subversive of the liberty of their constituents, who can blame them? They are in my opinion highly to be commended, for making use of a power vested in them, or rather reserv'd by the constitution, & originally intended to check the wanton career of imperious governors—A power, in the due exercise of which, even KINGS, their masters, have sometimes been brought to their senses, when they had any. But Chronus cannot show an instance of this conduct in the house of representatives for many years past, I dare say. It must therefore be a mistake in him to suppose, that this conduct of "our intemperate patriots", has "occasion'd his Majesty to render him more independent, by taking the payment of his governor upon himself." I make no doubt but some other motive occasion'd the minister to advise to an independent governor in this province, which will in all probability take place in every colony throughout America.——The motive is too obvious to need mentioning—If Chronus will make it appear that a governor's being made independent of the people, is not repugnant to the principles of the charter of this province, or any free government, he will do more than I at present think he or any other can—Till this is done, it is in vain to flatter a sensible people with the prospect of enjoying "peace, happiness or any other blessing they have reason to desire," and right to expect from good government, while the measure is persisted in.

From the MASSACHUSETTS SPY of Thursday last.

For the MASSACHUSETTS SPY.

Mr. THOMAS.

I Was not a little surprized when I heard that Mr. Hutchinson had laid before the honourable board, the piece published in your paper of the 14th current, under the signature Mucius Scævola, and that the King's Attorney was ordered to prosecute the publisher, and that a private Gentleman of this town should be cited to be interrogated relative to said publication. Untill now I never heard that it was unlawful, barely to ask, and to desire the assistance of our fellow-citizens, in this important enquiry, Whether the person in the Chair is a lawful and constitutional Governor, yea or nay? If an Officer arrests me in the street, I have a right to know from him whether he be in fact a lawful officer, if he refuses to satisfy me in this point, I have a right to resist him, unless it appear from the notoriety of his practice that he is an officer, and has been commonly submitted to. These enquiries are of the UTMOST IMPORTANCE to a FREE people; and this is all that Mucius intended in the offensible publication.

Indeed, I have said, "An Englishman should never part with a penny, but by his consent, or the consent of his agent &c."—This certainly must be a harmless proposition, the truth of it which is known by intuition; I assign a reason why we should not consent, viz. because if Money forced from us," meaning by the Revenue-Act, "is appropriated, in part at least, "to hire a man to tyrannize over us, whom his master calls our Governor." This idea was suggested in a ministerial paragraph, in a late London paper, in which it is intimated, that the sole reason, why the Ministry undertake to pay our Governor, &c. is because the pay or hire has always operated as a bribe, and that when they are hired by the people over whom they preside, they, having such a check, always favour the interest of the people. That the Minister, whom I have called hir, that is Mr. Hutchinson, is master, doth apply the money, forced from us by Revenue Acts, to this purpose, is very evident, and we have no reason to think that he can have any other intention than that mentioned in the said London paragraph. We also know, Mr. Hutchinson has refused his assent to a bill for his support. This shews his total independence on us. The paper that gives offence, says, "This SEEMS to be Mr. Hutchinson's situation, THEREFORE, (i. e. because he is independent) I cannot but view him as an Usurper, &c." this is proposed as a matter to be enquired into, and the rule by which we are to try this opinion is the CHARTER, wherein this people reserved to themselves the priviledge of paying Governors, this appears from hence, they compliment the King with the priviledge of nominating and appointing only. That the paying Governors lies with the people, even by compact, appears by the perpetual instructions which have been given to Governors to apply to the people for their wages or HIRE. Indeed I have this strong conclusion, which I supposed naturally followed the premises, viz. "untill he does," that is "stipulate with the people," "for his support", he is no legal Governor. If the premises and reasonings are false, Mr. Hutchinson must be acknowledged a constitutional Governor. I have not pretended to determine this matter, but refer it wholly to his Majesty's Council, upon whose shoulders the Government must rest, if it should appear to be true, that the minister has mistaken the Charter rule in the appointment of a Massachusetts Governor. There is nothing in all this, that has a tendency to disturb lawful and constitutional authority; I appeal to my Countrymen, whose peace, freedom and happiness I esteem as my chief joy.

MUCIUS SCÆVOLA.

By Capt. Miller, arrived at New-York, from London, we have the few following Articles, which are only 3 or 4 Days later than those received by Capt. Lyde.

LONDON,

Sept. 25. His Excellency the French ambassador is not expected to return to England till some time in November next.

Orders were dispatched on Saturday to the several dock yards and sea ports on the coast, to levy 6000 seamen with all speed for a secret expedition.

It is said that six sail of the line will shortly be fitted out and compleatly manned, the command of which will be given to an experienced officer, but their destination is as yet a secret.

It is said that orders are given for a general review of all his Majesty's marine forces, in their divisions, at Portsmouth, Chatham and Plymouth.

Advice is certainly received, that the French have erected eight different forts and settlements in the East-Indies, in open defiance of the treaties subsisting between them and our court.

Sept. 26. We hear from Plymouth, that a French frigate has been cruizing off the Ram-head for this week past, and that she stands in for land at dark, and disappears at day-break.

Advice is received, that there has been a warm dispute between an English man of war and a French frigate in the Mediterranean; the English Captain demanded the compliment that is usually paid to his Britannic Majesty's ships, which the Frenchman did not chuse to comply with, till several shot were fired at him; but the guns were ordered to be pointed in such a manner as they could do no execution. The French Captain declared he should send an account home of the affront done the King his master.

Taunton, November 27, 1771.

Meſſieurs EDES & GILL,

Pleaſe to inſert the following, and you'l oblige your conſtant Reader, SOLOMON THROW.

HAVING in the courſe of my reading found in your Papers an Advertiſement ſetting forth the Excellency of the Saliſbury Potaſh Kettles, I thought it my Duty to take Notice of the Inconſiſtency of the Recommendation——Firſt, it ſaid they are caſt in Clay Copes, I never knew they were caſt in any other Manner.—Then, it is ſaid the Kettles are made of the beſt Mountain Ore, and conſequently are not liable to crack, and that likewiſe they are worth a conſiderable Sum after they are crack'd or worn out in uſing——Now every one, that rightly underſtands the making tough refin'd Iron, muſt acknowledge, that the whiter the more brittle, and the coarſer the Particles of the Pig Iron, the better for the Purpoſe of Bar Iron, ſo that every one at the firſt thought muſt know that the cloſer the Connection and the finer the Particles of the Iron the better the Veſſels caſt from ſuch, and will be able to endure the Penetration of the corroding Salts of Potaſh and the Fire, as is the Caſe of thoſe made from Bog and Rock Ore; from all which it is evident that Mountain Ore cannot in the Nature of it be good for Potaſh Kettles, but may be good for Pig Iron, and that the Kettles made from Bog and Rock Ore, muſt be beſt for the Purchaſer, we may naturally infer from thence that Bog and Rock Ore will not make good Pigs. I was very glad to find in your Paper that the late pompous Advertiſement was detected by one who muſt be allowed to underſtand the Nature of Iron, and as he juſtly obſerves, that any old Kettles will fetch equal Price at the Forge's, is true, for neither of them are of any Value there, but are fit for nothing but the Furnaces.

Charles-Town, (South-Carolina,) October 17.

Laſt Tueſday afternoon, the joint-public treaſurers of this province, not thinking themſelves warranted to comply with an order of the commons houſe of Aſſembly alone to advance the ſum of three hundred pounds currency, to the committee on the ſilk manufacture, it was adjudged a contempt, and they were, by order of that houſe, committed to the common goal in this town; but very ſoon after ſet at liberty, in conſequence of a proclamation for diſſolving the Court.

It is thought that moſt of the members of the houſe of Aſſembly will be re-elected, thoſe for Charles-Town in particular, it being ſaid, that they have declared their willingneſs to ſerve again.

There was but one diſſenting voice to the reſolution on Thurſday laſt, for the commitment of the joint publictreaſurers.

We are informed that Sir George Rodney, who commands his Majeſty's ſquadron ſtationed at Jamaica, &c. having lately ſent two ſhips to Carthagena, to demand the releaſe of ſome hundreds of Britiſh Subjects, who have moſt diſgracefully been ſuffered to remain impriſoned there, and at other places, ſome of them a number of years, and not only compelled to work on the fortifications, but alſo otherwiſe treated as ſlaves; and the Spaniſh Government having refuſed to deliver them up; he was preparing to go with his whole fleet to make a demand of them.—[having no private trade to carry on with the Spaniards, to which he fears a conduct will give interruption.]

Capt. Henſley, in the brigantine little John, who arrived here yeſterday from Boſton, brought in with him Thomas Townſend Maſter, the mate, and one mariner, late of the ſchooner Sea-flower, of and from Virginia for Antigua, which Veſſel had been broke to pieces in a Storm, and two of the Mariners drowned. Capt. Henſley's veſſel in lat. 37. d. 57. m. long. 66. d. 36 m. had both her maſts carried away, in a violent gale of wind, Sept. 24th.

At the Court of General Seſſions began here on Monday, thirty-one Bills were found by the Grand Jury.

The trial of Dr. John Haly alſo came on at this Seſſions, who was arraigned for murder, for the Death of Peter DeLancey, Eſq; in a duel. This trial began at Eight o'Clock on Saturday, before the moſt crowded audience that ever was aſſembled there upon any occaſion, and was not over till after ſeven in the evening, when the Jury, after having been out only a few minutes, convinced (we may preſume) that there was not the leaſt degree of malice on his part, brought in their verdict, guilty of Manſlaughter.—Dr. John Haly pleaded his Majeſty's pardon, and was diſcharged.

NEWPORT, November 25.

Laſt Friday Conrad Flack, of this Town, Baker, was apprehended, on Suſpicion of his having mortally wounded his Wife: His Apprentice, Abiather Willſon, who had got on Board one of the Packets to go to Providence, was alſo apprehended.—Flack on Examination gave but a poor Account of the Affair, but by Willſon's Evidence it appeared, that about 11 o'Clock the preceeding Night, a high Quarrel aroſe between Flack and his Wife, and that ſhe called him many hard Names, and threw a Plate at him, upon which he catched up the Tongs, and threw them at her with ſuch Force, that one End entered her right Temple, and ſtuck faſt in her Head, upon which ſhe fell, without ſpeaking a Word; Flack immediately ran out; Willſon ſeeing his Miſtreſs fall, flew to her, but finding the Tongs ſticking in her Head, he ran out after his Maſter, and told him he had killed his Wife, and begged he would not run off and leave him; upon which they both returned into the Houſe, raiſed Mrs. Flack up, pulled out the Tongs, and bound ſome Paper, &c. over the Wound, and when Flack found that there was no probability of his Wife's recovering, he told Willſon that he was afraid he ſhould be brought into Trouble; that he would give Willſon up his Indentures, and furniſh him with Money for his Expences if he would go off, that he might not be an Evidence againſt him; and accordingly Willſon early in the Morning went on board one of the Packets, but by ſome Delay or other, the Packet had but juſt made Sail & got a few Rods from the Wharf, when ſhe was hailed by the Sheriff in queſt of Willſon.

Both Flack and Willſon were committed to cloſe Goal after they were examined; and the Woman died yeſterday Morning, having never ſpoke ſince ſhe was wounded. The Jury of Inqueſt brought in their Verdict WILFUL MURDER, by ſaid Flack.

At the Execution of Negro CÆSAR, at South-Kingſtown on the 15th Inſt. the Ladder accidentally fell off the Gallows, by which one of the Spectators was much bruiſed, and ſeveral others were ſlightly wounded.

S A L E M. Nov. 19 1771.

Extract of a Letter from a Maſter of a Veſſel at James's River, Virginia, to his Owner in this Town, dated Oct. 21, 1771. which is publiſhed as a Caution to thoſe who ſend Veſſels to Virginia or Maryland.

"There is a Man of War and two Tenders, who keep conſtantly cruizing between the Capes; they board all Veſſels, and are very ſevere in ſearching the ſame: They ſeized a brig from Liſbon, which Veſſel is condemned; they alſo ſeized two ſloops, which come on Trial in a few Days; ſo that it behoves all Owners, ſending this Way, to be very careful that the whole of their Cargoes are properly cleared."

BOSTON, December 2.

Laſt Wedneſday died here, ONESIPHORUS TILESTONE, Eſq; he has left that ineſtimable Character, an Honeſt Man, and a Friend to his Country. His Remains are to be interr'd this Afternoon.

The ſame Evening was ſeized with a Fit of Apoplexy, and the next Morning died, WILLIAM SHEAFFE, Eſq; Deputy-Collector of his Majeſty's Cuſtoms for this Port. His Remains are to be interr'd this Afternoon.

Yeſterday Morning died here, aged 59, Mrs. REBECCA GARDNER, Conſort of Dr. SYLVESTER GARDNER. Her Remains are to be interr'd next Wedneſday Afternoon, if the Weather permits.

Died] At Charleſtown, John Foye, Eſq; in the 66th Year of his Age.

By the late Regulation of the Southern Poſt-Rider, a Poſt-Office is eſtabliſhed at Warren and Briſtol, and the Weſtern Mails are exchanged at Newport: and no Poſt paſſes from Providence through Greenwich, and Warwick to North-Kingſton.

We hear from Tewkſbury, that a very ſorrowful Accident happened in that Town on the 7th ult. Jeremiah Kidder, jun. a Youth 18 Years of Age, took his Gun to purſue a Hawke that had killed one of their Fowls: While he was creeping among the Buſhes, and behind the Fence, one of his Siſters about 13 Years of Age, unbeknown to him, had got to the Place where the Hawk had kill'd the Fowl, and was picking up the Feathers; Her Hair being very much of the Colour of a Hawk's Feathers, and he creeping up behind a Fence, and looking through a Thicket of ſmall Buſhes, and ſeeing nothing but her Head, tho't it was the Hawk, at about two Rods Diſtance, and immediately fired at it. His Father, and one Mr. Thompſon being at a ſmall Diſtance from him, aſked him if he had killed the Hawk? He told them he believed he had, and immediately jumped over the Fence to pick up the Hawk; but to his great Surprize found he was miſtaken, and cry'd out, that he had kill'd one of the Children. His Father and Mr. Thompſon ran to him immediately, they ſuppoſed that her Brains was ſhot out, but the Breath was not then out of her Body; they carried her into the Houſe, but ſhe had no Senſe or Feeling; nor could ſtir any more than a dead Body, but continued to breathe till the 9th Day in the Morning, when ſhe expired. The Coroner ſummoned a Jury to enquire for the King; and after a ſtrict Examination of all that was knowing relative her unfortunate Death, the Jury agreed that ſhe came to her Death by Misfortune; and by the Hand of Jeremiah Kidder, jun. contrary to his Will, by firing a Gun as he ſuppos'd at a Hawk.——And it appeared to all that was knowing to the Circumſtances of her Death that the unfortunate Youth would not have fired his Gun, if he could have gained the whole World by it, if he had known it had been his Siſter.—His Sorrow for what he had done is very great: and to increaſe it, ſome ungarded Perſons that knew nothing of the Circumſtances of her being killed in ſuch an uncommon Manner, have declared that he ought to be hanged for it.—Thoſe Perſons would do well to conſider, that they know not what may befall them between this and the Grave; and that they may be called out of Time into an endleſs Eternity, when they are not aware of it.

We hear from Wilmington, that ſome Time ſince, one Peter Alexander, jun. and Moſes Noyce, being at Work on the High Way with a number of other Men, Alexander and Noyce got a little affronted at each other, they cloſed in together and took two falls, Alexander fell upon Noyce firſt, the ſecond Noyce was upon Alexander; at the ſame neither of them ſtruck the other nor threatened it: They both got up and went to Work, after they had done Work, Alexander complain'd of not being well, went home, grew worſe, which was occaſion'd by a Breach which he had in his Body for a number of Years, his Pain and Difficulty increaſing, he died the third Day after. After he was Dead, it was reported by ſome ill-minded Perſon that Noyce had kill'd Alexander. Whereupon a Jury was ſummoned to enquire for the King, the Body was carefully viewed, no Marks of Violence could be found on it; and by a number of Witneſſes that was preſent when they took their falls together, declare upon Oaths that they heard no threatening Words on either Side, nor ſee any Violence offered; and Alexander told Noyce before his Death, he thought himſelf as much to blame or more than Noyce, and did not think he had any Deſign to hurt him in the Scuffle they had together. The Jury of Inqueſt agreed that Alexander died a Natural Death.
